KNOCKED DOWN PORTER AND SAT ON HIS HEAD

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
NEW YORK, November 25.—Fisticuffs and a knockdown between a minister and a broker on the links of the Apawamis Golf Club, of which both are members have caused unwanted turmoil among the fashionable golfing circles in the town of Southampton.
Resultant of the fight, Robert M. Rogers, a rich broker, has been dropped from the membership of the club, and the Rev. Charles H. Gillett, librarian of the Clinton Theological Seminary and a well known clergyman, has been suspended for one year.
Rogers and a friend were approaching the eighteenth hole, which is near the club house, when he discovered that Dr. Gillett and an opponent were facing the same hole. Both parties were anxious to catch a train that would leave in a few minutes, and for that reason wished to finish their respective matches as soon as possible.
Neither side would yield. In a free there was a surprising circle of heads, and when the dust had raised the broker was sitting on the head of the preacher, calmly telling his partner to finish the game.
Gillett then broke his "tritter" on the broker's shoulders.

The After-Shock.

There is one thing to be borne in mind about the tendency to make a call in jail a luxurious resting place for well known men awaiting trial on indictments for crime. If they are sent to the penitentiary afterwards, the shock is that much greater.—Norfolk Landmark.

MICHAEL DIES ON WAY TO RACE

Welsh Bicycle Rider Expires
Suddenly on Board French
Steamship La Savoie.

MATCHED TO MEET WALTHOUR

First News of Death Was Received by Wireless
Telegraphy.

(By Associated Press.)

NEW YORK, November 25.—"Jumble" Michael, the noted Welsh middle distance bicycle rider, died suddenly last Monday morning on board the French line steamship La Savoie, from congestion of the brain. Michael was coming to the United States to race again, and he was accompanied by a number of long distance riders, who are to enter the six-day contest to be held here in December.

Michael complained of being ill on Sunday, saying to the ship's doctor that he was suffering from a very sore headache and from nausea. He told Dr. Maure that his illness was due, he thought, to the after-effects of a severe fall he received about two years ago.

Dr. Maure attended the champion rider during the remainder of that day, and by night had succeeded in relieving him of the pain. He retired early and did not complain of feeling ill. About 3 o'clock Monday morning his companion, Jean Gougoltz, the French bicyclist, heard Michael struggling violently in his state-room. Dr. Maure, who was at once called, pronounced Michael's condition to be dangerous. He was in violent delirium until 4 o'clock in the morning, and an hour later died. Dr. Maure said that his death was caused by congestion of the brain, undoubtedly due to a blood clot, which had formed as a result of the accident at Berlin.

The first news of Michael's death was a wireless telegram to P. T. Powers, manager of the six-day race, received from Gougoltz.

Michael was matched to race Bobby Walthour for the world's middle distance bicycle championship in a fifteen-mile bicycle race at Madison Square Garden on December 31.

Unromantic Reality.

A woman is suing for divorce in Allen county on the allegation that her husband made her go out in the harvest field and work like a hired hand. It is a circumstance calculated to take some of the glamour from those beautiful eastern stories about the noble Kansas women who went out with their husbands and helped save the crops.—Kansas City Journal.

It is often necessary to chamfer or cut away the corner where two surfaces meet, as in Fig. 49, the word chamfer being a carpenter's term which includes beveling.

A chamfer may be a flat bevel, as at A and B in Fig. 49, or it may be in the form of a groove or curve, as at C and D.
